Privacy Policy

We are committed to safeguarding the privacy of our website visitors; this policy sets out how we will treat your personal information.

(1) How our website uses Cookies

- (a) Our main website pages do NOT generate Cookies of any sort.
- (b) Our Gallery is based on a database and that database generates 2 Cookies each time you choose to visit the Gallery, which you do by clicking on the text & photo links on our main site page "Gallery".

About Cookies in General

Cookies are files, often including unique identifiers, that are sent by web servers to web browsers, and which may then be sent back to the server each time the browser requests a page from the server.

Cookies can be used by web servers to identity and track users as they navigate different pages on a website, and to identify users returning to a website.

Cookies may be either "persistent" cookies or "session" cookies. A persistent cookie consists of a text file sent by a web server to a web browser, which will be stored by the browser and will remain valid until its set expiry date (unless deleted by the user before the expiry date). A session cookie, on the other hand, will expire at the end of the user session, when the web browser is closed.

About OUR Cookies

When you access the php driven database we offer you the choice of accepting or declining Cookies it generates. If you choose to decline the Cookies you will be directed back to the main site pages.

You can, if you choose to, revisit the php driven database Gallery pages and choose to accept Cookies and continue with your visit. We offer you this choice to conform with the EU Cookie Law (introduced 26/5/12).

The two Cookies our database driven Gallery generate are described below:

Cookie Name	What It Does
PHPSESSID	When you visit the database driven Gallery, the server send this small piece of code to your computer or mobile device web browser and it enables the browser and server to be identified to each other for the duration of your visit. Without this identification, the server would not be able to deliver the text or photos you request by clicking links on the gallery pages. This Cookies automatically dies at the end of your session – eg when you leave the gallery and go to another web page.
lastvisit	This Cookie is also generated by our servers when you visit our database driven gallery. This piece of code enables your web browser to return to any of the pages within our Gallery up to 60 minutes after your last visit. This is useful if your computer or mobile device crashes or you lose network connection. This Cookie automatically dies 60 minutes after your last visit to the gallery.

Both of the Cookies our server generates solely identify the device communicating with it – your computer or mobile device. None of the information sent between your device and our server identifies you as an individual.

Refusing to Accept Cookies

Most browsers allow you to refuse to accept cookies. For example:

(1) in Internet Explorer you can refuse all cookies by clicking "Tools", "Internet Options", "Privacy", and selecting "Block all cookies" using the sliding selector

(2) in Firefox you can block all cookies by clicking "Tools", "Options", and un-checking "Accept cookies from sites" in the "Privacy" box.

Blocking all cookies will, however, have a negative impact upon the usability of many websites. [If you block cookies, you will not be able to use the [identify feature(s)] on this website.

Deleting Cookies

You can also delete cookies already stored on your computer:

(1) in Internet Explorer, you must manually delete cookie files;

(2) in Firefox, you can delete cookies by, first ensuring that cookies are to be deleted when you "clear private data" (this setting can be changed by clicking "Tools", "Options" and "Settings" in the "Private Data" box) and then clicking "Clear private data" in the "Tools" menu.

Obviously, doing this may have a negative impact on the usability of many websites.
